STAFF OF CACTUS FOR 1918 GIVEN OUT BY EDITOR

J. S. Elfenbein Announces Names of Those Who Have Been Given Staff Positions.

Final announcement of the staff for the 1918 Cactus was made yesterday by Editor J. E. Elfenbein. According to Elfenbein, the staff this year will consist of a board of editors, upon which will appear the heads of the various departments, while the other workers on the year book will be listed together.

The staff will probably have its picture made early next Sunday morning at the Elliotts' Studio, and further notice to that effect will appear in Sunday's Texan.

As given to The Texan, the staff is:

Board of Editors.

J. S. Elfenbein, Editor-in-Chief.
Vernon B. Hill, Associate Editor.
T. R. McKeever, Permanent Manager.

Ainsie G. Wood, Jr., Business Manager.

Mrs. Charles Stephenson, Cataloguer.

Ed Angly, College Year and Athletics.

Harry K. Brown, Cactus Thorn.

Jesse Mary Hill, Alumni.

F. Edward Walker, Seniors.

Hazel Edwards and Elizabeth Nelson, Co-eds.

Vernon L. Elledge, Stenography.

Silas B. Ragsdale, Publicity.

Members of the Staff.

Marian Hawkins, Maud Milam, Fannie Sellars, Hill Coker, Emil Corenbleth, M. J. Rosenfield, Madden Hill, Ellis Bonnet, Milton Ling, Joe Foster, Leroy Mattingly, Charles Cates, Richard Knight, Jack Beall, Freddie Moore, Donald Nail, Gus Taylor, T. H. Crutcher, Jr., Bess McChesney, Tillie McCammon.

"A PROPOSAL UNDER DIFFICULTIES," PLAY PLANNED BY MENORAH

"A Proposal Under Difficulties" is the rather suggestive and curiosity-inspiring name of the skit by John Hendrick Bangs, which is to be given by the Menorah Society next Sunday night. The play constitutes part of the plans for the celebration of the Jewish festival of Lurim, and promises to be as interesting as its title.

The four characters appearing in the skit have been assigned as follows:

Jennie, a maid, Marguerite Meyer; Dorothy Andrews, Sadie Hawtof; John Barlow, Harry Garfinkle; Robert Yardsley, Louis Hexter.

The personnel shows exceedingly good choice and the interpretations of the play is expected to be of a distinctly high class.

On Sunday afternoon Dr. Barnstein of Houston will speak at Temple Beth El under the auspices of the Menorah Society. The lecture will be given at 4 o'clock and the play at 8 o'clock at Temple Beth El, and Louis Hexter, on behalf of Menorah, extends a cordial invitation to the public to be present.

OUR SERVICE FLAG NEEDS CO-ED SEWING TO HASTEN FINISH

The Varsity service flag, which must have all of its stars sewed on by March 2nd, is only about one-half finished. There are about 1700 stars to be sewed on yet and the time is short.

Any time that any girl has free would be well spent in sewing on at least one star.

The work is being carried on on the second floor of the Power House, and all girls are urged to help out in getting the flag finished on time.

Second list of students who have been reported to the Librarian for excessive talking:

Harold Moore.
F. H. Schluter.
Tom Scurry.
Helmuth Hartman.
Hallie Kelly.
Richard Vander Straten.
Florence Catteridge.

DISCH'S PUPILS TO MEET CHICAGO WHITE SOX, SURE

Comiskey Closes Contract for Game Here With the Longhorns on March 29.

By Scott Anderson.
Telegram.

Union Stock Yards, Ill., Feb. 20. Athletic Council, University of Texas, Austin, Texas.

Will accept game for Friday, March 29. World's champion White Sox number one.

CHARLES COMISKEY, Mgr.

The foregoing telegram from the manager of the Chicago White Sox was received by the Athletic Council Wednesday. Terms have been agreed upon, and on March 29 Disch's cohorts will get a chance to mix with real classy company. Judging from the way the training is progressing now, by that date the Longhorns should be somewhat classy themselves.

According to Manager Comiskey the White Sox lineup will be, Schalk, c., Gandil 1b., Collins 2b., McMullin 3b., Weaver ss., Jackson rf., Felch cf., Collins lf., Cicotte, Danforth, Bens, Russell and Faber pitchers. This is the same aggregation that wrested the world's championship from the New York Giants last fall.

An encounter with the White Sox should mean a great deal to Disch's pupils. Those who are anxious to rise in the baseball world will do well to step lively in that game. Occasionally, the managers of big league teams present contracts to likely-looking lads on their spring tours through the South. Manager Comiskey has a particular affinity for big left-handed pitchers. Both of the Texas portersiders, Falk and Thomas, will probably be used against the champions.

The Athletic Council has received an offer for a game with the San Antonio Broncs, to be played about March 14. Final arrangements have not yet been completed.

FINAL REPORT ON FRIENDSHIP FUND

Registrar Mathews Gives Out Figures on Results from Texas Colleges.

According to a report just received by Registrar Mathews from Mr. Edwin Hobby of Dallas, State treasurer of the Students Friendship War Fund, there was pledged to this fund last fall $66,154.41. The amount assigned to the colleges of Texas was $65,000. Up to February 14 the sum of $38,877.99 had been paid, leaving $27,276.42 outstanding.

All pledges were due not later than February 15. Only two colleges have paid up in full, Fort Worth Female College (Kidd Key) and St. Mary's College.

The campaign for subscriptions last fall was regarded as a big success. It was evidence of our seriousness of purpose. It meant that we had placed the winning of the war first on our program, and that each of us wanted to share in it. We were all very happy over it. But, in view of the above figures, aren't we more patriotic in promising than in performing?

Since the Dallas report was made, $700 more has been paid in, making our total collection $9,700. Because the funds are so urgently needed the paying period has been extended to March 15. It is hoped that every subscriber who has not already paid will do so at once if possible. Those who cannot pay now should make now such plans as will permit payment by March 15.

DENTON LECTURES AT K HALL TONIGHT ON USES OF CONCRETE

Mr. Arthur P. Denton, district engineer for the Portland Cement Association, will deliver an illustrated lecture Friday night at 7:40 at "K" Hall, University. The lecture will be illustrated by moving pictures.

The films will show some of the uses of cement in concrete construction, more especially its use in the building of concrete roads. Admission will be free. The public is cordially invited.

100 PER CENT MEMBERSHIP AMONG ITS GIRLS IS WHAT GRINNELL COLLEGE CLAIMS. OF WHAT CAN TEXAS BOAST?

ADVISORY BOARD ELECTS NINE NEW STAFF MEMBERS

Turner Garner Made Issue Editor, and Two Resignations Are Accepted.

The Advisory Board of The Daily Texan made the following advancements on The Texan staff yesterday: J. Turner Garner, issue editor; Frank Bass, Ray Norriss, Katherine Brougher, Laura Davis, Alice Stroud, Irvin Cornwell, Hosea Collier, and M. E. Nutt, reporters.

The resignations of Miss Elizabeth Andrews and Miss Dorothy McKnight were accepted.

Tryouts for the staff may begin work at any time, and several more places can be filled if the material presented by the tryouts is good.

DR. PAYNE LECTURES ON EARLY STAGES

Stages and Stage Scenery of the Early Drama Discussed Before Good Audience at Law Building.

Dr. L. W. Payne, associate professor of English in the University, delivered an interesting lecture at the Law auditorium Wednesday night on the subject, "The Theaters and Historical Surroundings of the Elizabethan Plays." In spite of the inclement weather, a large crowd was out to hear the lecture, which was interesting to all students of English, and especially interesting to those who are studying the drama.

The lecture dealt chiefly with the plays of Shakespeare from the historical point of view. The first division of the lecture was concerned with the Miracle plays, which were, at first, presented in the church. Multiple stages were scattered through the building, and the crowds would pass from one stage to another. No two scenes were presented on any one stage.

The crowds outgrew the church, and plays were then produced out in the church yards. The yards were overgrown and graves desecrated, and the plays were then presented on the streets. The multiple stages were made movable, and were drawn through the city from crowd to crowd.

The second division of the lecture was devoted to plays presented in inns, where people paid for rooms and witnessed the plays. Early playhouses were first built outside of walled London, but on the same side of the river.

Dr. Payne's lecture was given under the auspices of the Extension Department. All present enjoyed the talk, and besides, increased their knowledge of the development of the theater.

TEX. PRE-MEDS MEET

Interesting Meeting Held Last Night, and Visit to Pasteur Institute Planned for Next Meeting.

The Texas Pre-Med Society met last night at the Y. M. C. A. Joseph Wolf read a paper on the "Cure of Cancer," which was very interesting. Miss Fay Brooks gave an interesting and helpful quiz on "Poisons and Antidotes."

Dick Granbury was elected treasurer to fill the place left vacant by Aruthur Burns.

The next meeting of the society takes place two weeks from last night. At that time, Dr. Wilhite of the Pasteur Institute will conduct them through the institute and explain the system of treatment given there.

BECOME MISSIONARY.

Herman Hernandez, who has been employed by the University of Texas for the past few years, has entered the missionary field. He has accepted an appointment by the missionary board of the Baptist Church, and has been assigned to duties on the Rio Grande border, ranging from El Paso to Brownsville.

COLLEGE SONGS HAVE DAY IN WEEK OF SONG

Large Attendance at Song Fest Enjoy Singing Once and Now Popular College Songs.

The program of college songs proved to be very popular at the song service yesterday. A large crowd of over two hundred joined enthusiastically in the singing of the following popular college songs:

"My Bonnie," "My Meerchaum Pipe," "Ching-a-ling," "To Texas," "A Soldier's Farewell," "The Dean," "Merry Life," and "The Eyes of Texas."

"Ching-a-ling," "My Meerchaum Pipe," and "The Dean" proved to be very popular, as they were each sung many times. "To Texas" is a song, the words of which were written by Lynn Landrum, a former University student, and the music by Prof. Reed. It is a very beautiful song, and was highly enjoyed by all. Everyone joined heartily in singing "The Eyes of Texas." Dr. Vinson was to have spoken, but owing to an important engagement, could not attend.

Each meeting has proven more popular than the preceding one, and it is expected that "K" Hall will be packed to overflowing tomorrow, when the last of the series will be sung.

This is to be a big patriotic meeting, and our national songs will be sung, it is hoped with more vigor and enthusiasm than ever before. Dr. Bu ttiewll .cmfwcmfwcmfwcmfwypp .Butte will give one of his famous addresses on patriotism. The exercise will begin, as usual, at 5 o'clock, and will close promptly at 6.

The program follows: "America," "Dixie," "Battle Hymn of Republic," "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," "The Star Spangled Banner," "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, the Boys Are Marching," "Tenting Tonight," and "When Johnnie Comes Marching Home."

PATRIOTIC LEAGUE GROWS WITH GIRLS

Work Will be Started After Meeting Next Week in Several Lines.

Interest in the Patriotic League is rising rapidly in the University. Although the campaign began only last Saturday, more than a hundred new members have been secured. This is a movement that has been inaugurated in all the colleges of America, and one in which the Texas students are leading.

Maud Milam, the leader of the committee, with forty captains under her, is conducting the campaign. It is her plan to enlist every girl in the University in the league. A committee meeting will be held next week, at which time definite plans will be made for work along patriotic lines.

The members of this league engage in doing all kinds of patriotic work. This includes Red Cross work, the making of scrap-books for soldiers, and knitting. Each member pledges herself to serve her country by abstaining from candy and by polishing her own shoes. This is only a small part of the work of the league. Almost all of the other Texas college girls are doing this, and the girls of the University have expressed their desire to organize a strong league here.

After the meeting next week, announcements will be made as to the definite work of the University girls.

BIRTHDAY PARTY GIVEN BY Y. W. C. A. TO MANY GIRLS

The Y. W. C. A. entertained last night between 7 and 9 o'clock with a party in the woman's gym for those girls whose birthdays come in January or February.

Running games and an old-fashioned Virginia reel were thoroughly enjoyed by all the girls.

As the girls are "doing their bit" toward Hooverizing, red apples were served for refreshments. About 25 girls were present.

"OLD MAN'S BOYS" ARE WELCOMED BY ALEX AT BANQUET

Dr. Vinson and Dean, Taylor Make Patriotic Talks—Class Speeches Feature Program.

Texas Engineers held solemn high festival at the Driskill Hotel last night. Alexander Frederick Claire was there, prexy was there the Old Man was there, and all the Engineers, past and present, were there. But most prominent of all, the old pep, that has run the department from the earliest days of Dean Taylor to the present time, was in evidence with redoubled vigor.

After the tables were cleared, Toastmaster Bantel introduced Geo. A. Duren, State Highway Engineer, for reminiscences of the old times. Joe Ward of last year's class followed with a speech on alumni.

Dr. Vinson, speaking on "Our Country," made an appeal for patriotic support of the Government.

Each class was represented by a speaker on the program. Armour Granger of the Seniors was especially clever in his speech, declaring that the present class had been differentiated with respect to S. M. A. and Camp Travis and other departments of army service, but that though it was approaching zero as a limit, it had not yet reached that point.

Stunts were put on by the Varsity and the men in S. M. A. V. H. Clements of the Ramshorn impersonated the toastmaster of the evening, Dr. Bantel, as he appears in his class in Freshman field work, brought laughter time and again from the Engineers with such characteristic expressions as "This checks," and "Peevish-sh." The S. M. A. Engineers presented a trial of the delinquent members of the faculty, including Dean Taylor, Professors Giesecke, Finch, Rice, and Payne. The janitor of the building was adjudged to be the wisest man on the premises, having been in the habit of doing all the work, and was accordingly put in charge of the whole department.

The program was completed by an impressive eulogy of the flag by Dean Taylor, "The Grand Old Man." He told of an auction to buy a silk flog held in 1907, in which the Engineers outbid all the other departments and purchased the flag for $325. The service flag which hung beside old glory, contains 198 blue stars and one gold star, and about fifty blue stars are yet to be added. Dean Taylor made a moving appeal to Texas Engineers to uphold the standards of the men who have gone before, and to be found always in the thickest part of the fight.

The toastmaster had the Freshmen salute Alex, and told them of the responsibilities imposed upon them as being followers of the Patron Saint. The occasion closed with "The Eyes of Texas."

PHI KAPPA PSI DEFEATS A. T. O.

In a fast and snappy game Wednesday night, Captain Beaver's team of the Phi Psi defeated Captain Montgomery's five by a score of 11 to 7.

Only one substitute was used by each side, Durham for Norris and Mosley for Jacks. Henry Hoskins of the Phi Psis was the star of the game, throwing four fouls out of four chances and two field goals, making a total of 8 points.

EXPENSIVE PICTURE.

People of Austin will have the privilege of seeing one of the masterpieces of the world's paintings. T. H. Williams has secured the painting, "Old Darby," from the owners, and has it on exhibition in his store. The picture is valued at $65,000, and one of the most valuable ones in the world. Everyone is invited to come to the store and inspect the picture, for it is well worth seeing.

REMOVED BY ORDINANCE.

The rail, adorned with inviting spikes, which until yesterday protected the grass on the front yard of the Co-op property has been removed. A city ordinance was the cause of the unexpected removal, and every student may now cut off three feet of his weary way to and from the Co-op.

A. & M. WINS FIRST OF TWO GAMES OF FINAL CLASH

Tight Game Ends 8 to 7 for A. & M. Last Game Today—Longhorns May Claim Championship.

At the end of a hard fought game against great odds and all the dopests' prophecies, the crippled Longhorn five could only claim the small end of an 8 to 7 score.

At the end of the first half, the score stood 4 to 2 in favor of Henderson's men, but luck turned in the second half and at the final shot of the gun the score stood 8 to 7 for A. & M.

That the team fought well is evident from the fact that during the first nine minutes of play one point was scored, and that by Texas. During the first 16 minutes of play only three points were made.

The glass backboards of the A. & M. goals caused the Longhorn five quite a bit of inconvenience, but from the first to the last shot the game was played hard.

Gray and Russell were put out of the game for personal fouls.

The line ups were as follows: Texas, DeViney, Gray, Russell, Greer Hill, Substitutes, Diller for Russell Penn for Gray.

A. & M., Gouger, McQuillan, Longcope, Dwyer, Wise.

The last game of the year with A. & M. will be played this afternoon. The prospects for a Longhorn victory are not bright, but before the Texas spirit has come back and fought, its best with its back to the wall.

If the controversy this afternoon ends in a Texas victory, the Longhorns yet have claim to the State Championship.

Public Speaking 105 Holds Breezy Meeting

Yesterday the congressional session of Public Speaking 105.2 was opened by a continuation of the literacy test question. The interest centered in the two speeches of the opposing Senators from Vermont and Idaho, respectively. At exactly 9:37 a. m. Thursday the proponents of the bill, realizing they were unable to muster sufficient votes to carry it over, moved the bill be tabled, which was quickly done.

Eddings, the pseudo Senator from Missouri, next introduced House Bill No. 1323, known as the National Prohibition Amendment. At this juncture, the Chief Executive, represented in the person of the class critic, Mr. Corenbleth, appeared in the House and made a pertinent talk regarding the liquor question. Prolonged demonstrations greeted his unexpected appearance. The gentleman from Arkansas, who followed the President, attacked the bill with a great stream of oratory. Moist handkerchiefs were seen in the gallery as he told of how the grave of the great leader of democracy seemed disturbed within itself because of the proposed blow to the State's right theory of government. Pseudo Senator Rosenfield indulged in his customary sarcastic retort.

The society 105.2 decided to extend an invitation to the other clubs in the course to work in conjunction with its committee looking to the adoption and publication of a common constitution. Rosenfield, Eddings, and Acheson were appointed on this committee. The parliamentary drill of the last two sessions is proving very profitable, as well as interesting.

RULES FOR SOCIAL EVENTS ARE BEING VIOLATED BY SOME

The social calendar committee states that several clubs and fraternities are overlooking the point in the "Rules Regulating Social Events in the University" concerning selection and approval of chaperones for the dances.

The rules state that a list of the chaperones for the event should be handed in to the dean of women at least two days before the dance for her approval. Some have handed in lists of chaperones with their applications for places on the social calendar, but a final list should be made and handed in to Mrs. Kirby in room 101 Main Building a few days before the event.

EXCUSE US.

Yesterday morning this column carried a semi-lyric, semi-epic poem saturated with lofty emotion and things, and headed "The Eventual Remedy." This literary gem was from the fertile typewriter of Silas B. Ragsdale, editor of The Texan. Yesterday afternoon, the editor followed the example of the Sophomore prexy and departed for pastures green.

Maybe there is a connection between the poem and the departure, and maybe there isn't. Anyway, the editor will be gone for several days. During his absence this weighty column will be handled by slightly more youthful and much less capable hands.

Just remember when you feel like joining the broom brigade that there is no law compelling students to read the editorial column. Control that impulse, read all the ads, and await the editor's return.

OBEY THAT IMPULSE.

That only forty men have responded to Coach Juneau's call for track candidates is indeed disheartening. Out of the male enrollment of nearly one thousand students, only two score men have actively given evidence of a desire to play a part in Juneau's effort to bring another Southwestern cinder path championship to Texas. At Oklahoma A. & M. more than twice this number are now fighting for places in the sprints, the jumps, the runs, and the other events which make up a track meet. Several educational schools in Texas with smaller enrollments than the University have, according to all reports, more candidates for their track squad than has the Orange and White.

With only one letter man now in school, prospects for a totally inexperienced athlete developing into a shining track star—or, at least, a second-stringer—are brighter than ever before. All athletic contests are far below the standards set in the ante-submarine halcyon days. It follows that a man who could not have made the track squad in peace times may easily become a cinder path phenom during times of war. Those students who won a third place back in the "home village" high school meet, but who have heretofore considered that record insufficient to warrant their wearing on Orange and White track suit, can look upon the matter in a different light now. And they should. Under the expert tutelage of Coach Juneau it is possible that such tyrannic athletes could be developed into Longhorn luminaries.

If no other argument appeals to those who have not yet obeyed that impulse that leads to Clark Field, it might be pointed out that those who abhor military drill might be able to substitute track work for the "one-two-three-four" pastime that is soon to become popular on the campus.

BUILD A BONFIRE.

Last year when the Longhorn quintet won a victory over the Farmer basketball team down at College Station, the student body here celebrated the win with a huge bonfire. Both financial and scholastic circumstances had prevented the rooting sections from accompanying the team to the land of the Farmers. The bonfire was tangible evidence that Texas spirit was willing, if Texas pocketbooks were weak.

Tonight the Longhorn quintet plays its fourth and last game of the season against the Aggies down at College Station. If the telegraph wires again carry the gladsome news which they bore last season, it seems to The Texan that a similar celebration would not be amiss.

NO CLASSES FOR A CHANGE.

Tomorrow we will enjoy the first holiday doled out to us by the faculty since Thanksgiving. We shall celebrate, by a much needed rest, the birthday of George Washington, who was first in the President's chair and in several other things, if we remember our grammar school history correctly. If you know of any patriotic exercises, go to them. Such action, while more or less conventional during years of peace, is this year marked with a distinctiveness which should appeal to all patriots. It was Washington who led the first Americans to fight for the principals which we are now defending "over there."

Some of us will take the entire day off. Others of us will have to "make up for lost time" in certain text books. But whatever occupies your time tomorrow, let a patriotic thought or two course through your think-tank. It may make a better American of you.

Contrary to popular belief, newspaper people are human beings just as much as professors or plumbers. Consequently, they desire holidays as much as anyone else. The Texan workers are newspaper people. Hence, there will be no Texan Saturday morning. Quod erat demonstratum.

CHAPEL NOTICE.

The stress in Judge Townes' address yesterday was on the fulfilment of prophecy as recorded in scripture. Having noted God as our beneficent Creator, and having advocated the Biblical explanation of the incarnation, he presented more fully the claims of Jesus as the fulfilment of the law and of prophecy.

The inclemency of the weather interfered with the attendance some, but a goodly number heard the judge's earnest plea for a simple, rational interpretation of the Bible.

There will be no meeting today on account of the holiday, but on Saturday morning Judge Townes will complete his series of addresses.

Pledges Entertain.

Wednesday night the pledges of Zeta Tau Alpha entertained the members of the active chapter with a stunt party. The opening of the program was an overture played on combs and tissue paper. Then each member of the chapter had the pleasure of seeing herself as others see her.

Miss See-All Know-All (Lillian Farr) answered all questions asked her, and many long-pondered questions were solved.

One of the interesting features of the evening was the Pan-Hellenic meeting held. All sorority members were present, and an interesting discussion on sorority life with many startling bits of information disclosed.

Harry Lauder (Frances Bussey) delighted the audience with a characteristic song and dance.

Misses Elinor Randolph and Gussie Snodgrass delighted aesthetic souls with an exquisite pre-historic dance.

The concluding number was "The American Girl." Elizabeth Ripley, Indian maiden, did an Indian war dance; Kathleen Curry, Puritan maiden; Fannie Fae Witter, as Colonial maiden, danced the minuet; Dorothy Evans, Southern girl, sang "Old Kentucky Home; Lillian Farr, 1870, sang "Cuddle Up," and Gussie Snodgrass, modern girl, together with Lieut Elinor Randolph, sang "When I'm Through With the Arms of the Army."

Miss Nina Dawson has gone to San Antonio for a week-end visit with her sister.

Miss Marian Hafford is enjoying a stay in San Antonio with friends.

Miss Mary Lee Reed is sick with measles.

Miss Jennett Collett is sick at her home.

Stanley McAnely has been called to Devine, Texas, on business. After a short stay at home, he will enter the Aviation Section of the Signal Corps.

Miss Helen Hutchenson of Paris is visiting at the Zeta House.

Harold A. Hill will spend this week-end at San Antonio.

Miss Venna Cocke is spending the week-end at her home in San Antonio.

Lieut. Ben Kelly of Camp Travis is a guest at the A. T. O. House.

Miss Alma Cardwell is spending the week-end at her home in Lockhart.

Mrs. Grady B. Ross of Henderson, formerly Miss Corinne Lochridge, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. P. Lochridge.

Miss Ola Mae Hamilton of Palestine is the guest of Miss Corinne Storey at the Phi Mu House.

Miss Mallie Jones is suffering from attack of the mumps.

Miss Pearl Connor of Paris is the guest of Miss Dorothy Broad at Mrs. Schiller's.

Miss Mary Edna Booth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Booth, was married Saturday, February 16, to Dr. William L. O'Quinn of Lufkin, Texas. Mrs. O'Quinn was a student of the University last year.

Miss Anna Bell is spending the week-end in Dallas.

Yale's Baseball Team.

Yale University's baseball team for this season is now an assured fact. This year's schedule will be made to conform as nearly as practicable to those of former years, but the games will all be played on Saturdays on account of the war work being done. The coaching will be entirely in charge of returning graduates.

Colgate's Baseball Trip.

Because of the early closing of the college in May and the usual unfavorable baseball weather until that time, Colgate University is considering making an extended baseball trip after that time.

Inter-College Basketball.

One of the most effective agencies for stimulating interest in athletics ever devised by the authorities at Iowa State University is the inter-fraternity basketball series. Seniors who formerly visited the gym once a month now are regular visitors to this place of exercise. Not only are the individuals being benefited by this arrangement, but the interest in athletics of the entire university is receiving a strong impetus and prospective candidates for the Varsity teams are unearthed.

Illinois Students.

The total number of students registering for the second semester at the University of Illinois was 2139, as against 3161 at the same time one year ago. This year there are only 48 graduates, while last year there were 130.

Battery men for Harvard have been requested to report for practice. Harvard is having difficulty in getting men for the managerial positions. Only twelve men applied for the managership of the Frosh baseball team. This is a deal below the usual number of applicants.
